Kinga Surányi
Curriculum Vitae

Name: Kinga Surányi

Date of birth: 08.02.1995.

Place of birth: Szolnok, Hungary

Nationality: Hungarian

E-mail: kingablanka08@gmail.com

Education

2021 - current	Ethology PhD, Doctoral School of Biology, Eötvös Loránd University Topic: Tuned to humans? Voice identity processing in dogs Supervisor: Dr. Attila Andics
2018 - 2020	Biologist MSc, Faculty of Science and Technology, University of Debrecen, Debrecen, Hungary
2018 - 2019	Therapy Dog Trainer course
2015 - 2018	Biology BSc, Faculty of Science and Technology, University of Debrecen, Debrecen, Hungary

Employment

2022 - current	Research assistant, Neuroethology of Communication Lab, Department of Ethology, Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest, Hungary
2021 - 2022	Research assistant, MTA-ELTE 'Lendület' Neuroethology of Communication Research Group, Department of Ethology, Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest, Hungary
2020 - 2021	Guide dog trainer and veterinary assistant, Guide Dog Training Centre, The Hungarian Federation of the Blind and Partially Sighted (MVGYOSZ)

Conferences

2022	XXIV. Hungarian Ethology Conference, Budapest, Hungary
2022	8th European Student Conference on Behaviour and Cognition, Rovereto, Italy
2021	XXIII. Hungarian Ethology Conference, Budapest, Hungary

2020 The New National Excellence Programme Conference, Debrecen, Hungary

2019 XXIV. National Scientific Students' Association Conference, Budapest, Hungary

2018 Scientific Students' Association Conference, Debrecen, Hungary

Professional awards and scholarships

2022 - 2023 Scholarship of the New National Excellent Programme

2019 - 2020 Scholarship of the New National Excellent Programme

2019 Talent Management Programme of the University of Debrecen, Scholarship

2019 XXIV. National Scientific Students' Association Conference, Biology Section, Animal Ecology Division, I. place

2018 Professional Excellent Scientific Scholarship, Faculty of Science and Technology, University of Debrecen

2017 Summer Scholarship, Faculty of Science and Technology, University of Debrecen